

WARNING.

We wish to caution all users of Simmons Liver Regulator on a subject of the deepest interest and importance to their health—perhaps their lives. The sole proprietors and makers of Simmons Liver Regulator learn that customers are often deceived by buying and taking some medicine of a similar appearance or taste, believing it to be Simmons Liver Regulator. We warn you that unless the word Regulator is on the package or bottle, that it is not Simmons Liver Regulator. No one else makes it, nor has anyone else the name. We alone can put it up, and we cannot be responsible, if other medicines represented as the same do not help you as you are led to expect they will. Bear this fact well in mind, if you have been in the habit of using a medicine which you supposed to be Simmons Liver Regulator, because the name was somewhat like it, and the package did not have the word Regulator on it, you have been imposed upon and have not been taking Simmons Liver Regulator at all. The Regulator has been favorably known for many years, and all who use it know how necessary it is for Fever and Ague, Biliousness, Constipation, Headache, Dyspepsia, and all disorders arising from a Disordered Liver.

See that Simmons Liver Regulator, and see that Simmons Liver Regulator, which you can readily distinguish by the Red Z on wrapper, and by our name, is the only medicine called Simmons Liver Regulator.

WALTON'S WONDERFULLY WISE WORDS.

The failures of National banks and Building and Loan Associations, as occasionally reported, are not always by dishonest officials, but frequently occur from a failure to realize on loans, which proves that money is too high and products are too low.

It is a cold day when John D. White isn't running for something. He has now shifted his castor into the ring for circuit judge believing that he will fill a long felt want as a jurist. We hope he will get there, if for no other reason than to disappoint some meager Republican.

Gov. Bradley has announced very strikingly that when he is sure he's doing wrong, he cannot be scared or cajoled into doing wrong. It is Jan. 30 and the extra session of the Legislature has not been called. Meanwhile the heathen rage and Hunter imagines a vain thing, but they will all find William O'Connell Bradley is governor and does not propose to be run by anything or anybody but the law as he sees it in his own conscience.

Senator Teller gives it as his expert opinion that McKinley could not have named a more incompetent Secretary of State than John Sherman will make. And Teller ought to know, he has been cheek by jowl with him in the House of Lords long enough.

Lyman J. Gage, president of the First National Bank of Chicago, will accept the treasury portfolio in McKinley's cabinet if tendered him, says a dispatch. Of course he will. And there are dead loads of others in the same fix.

In London there is an insurance company which insures bank accounts against failure. Why banks bursting to the right of us and banks bursting to the left of us, such an institution would be a dead office business in the U. S. now.

It is unfortunate for the cause of law and order that when the Kentucky courts occasionally get a move on themselves, they do so on some poor Negro, without friends and without money. The Negro, Charles Taylor, whose case was railroaded through to a sentence of death, in 10 days after he committed his horrible crime, deserves summary and coudign punishment, but the example would have been a great deal more salutary had some white scoundrel, with money and friends at his back, been brought to face death as quickly for his misdeeds, as the Frankfort brute.

A little girl being charged with vanity because she was fond of looking at herself in a mirror said: "No, I am not vain. I don't think I'm half as pretty as I am."

It was considered quite a funny affair when Mrs. Cates scolded C. Foreman, an objectionable lover of her daughter, but the matter has taken a decidedly serious turn. Foreman is thought to be dying and Mrs. Cates is in jail in default of bail. At this rate the scolding of young men who persist in calling on girls against their parents' will, will not become popular.

A few idiotic papers following the lead of the New York Journal are publishing in each issue, dropping off one each time "only 40 more days of Cleveland." This is certainly nothing to exult about. The meanest Democrat is better than the best Republican.

There seems to be a general desire of both factions of the Democratic party to get together in this county to nominate and elect competent and worthy men for county officers. There should be no nomination or re-nomination, but concessions all around for the public good.

The sad rumor is wafted on the breeze that McKinley has determined that there shall be a new deal all around this time and that no person who held office under the last Republican administration will be considered this time. This is pretty tough if true and it ought to be true if it isn't.

Pity 'tis that this is true: There is but one way for the Democratic party in Kentucky to expect to get control of the State again: That way is to heal recent differences and restore harmony to the divided ranks, and the prospect of a result like this is not specially encouraging.—Georgetown Times.

A New York dispatch tells how Gov. Buckner Joliffe Gov. Bushnell, of Ohio, over the way the Democrats (?) helped the Republicans out in the late election, as if that were anything to boast of. It begins to look like the last end of this old man is worst than the first.

The lurching that the Courier-Journal is getting all around for its desertion of Democracy has at last touched a tender spot in its epidermis, and it belittles like a stuck pig in its issue of the 14th. This is a good sign since it shows it has lost not a bit of its old decency.—Interim Journal.

This was not the first time the C. J. has been brought to terms by the country rosters. About twenty years ago in a controversy between the country boys and the big city daily the latter was brought down from its "high horse" and compelled to make fair weather with the fellows that fatten on haled hay. It will do again.—Carlsruhe Mercury.

It is often asked how the city council could grant license after the people voted against saloons. Because of some irregularity in calling the election, it was declared void and the drys were not wide awake enough to see that only councilmen opposed to license were elected. Eternal vigilance is the price of all achievements.

Senator Hill received the empty honor of being nominated by the Democratic members of the New York Legislature, but even that small favor was bestowed grudgingly, five Democrats refusing point blank to vote for him. Fact of the business is it ought not to have been bestowed at all. His course in the

As one is about as good a Republican as the other the exchange is unimportant.

The Republican party was 41 years old Wednesday and the anniversary was celebrated at Pittsburg, where it first saw the light. The incubation was by Salmon P. Chase and Deacon White, of the Pittsburg Gazette, who held a private conference in the McMonagela House and decided to call a National convention, which was done and the convention met at Pittsburg, Feb. 22, of the same year. The sole object of the founders was to prevent the further extension of slavery and to take the place of the whig party, which went to pieces in 1852, after its nominee for presidency, Gen. Winfield Scott, only carried two Southern States. John C. Fremont was nominated for president and W. L. Dayton for vice president by the Pittsburg convention and the ticket received 1,275,000 votes. Lincoln was the next nominee of the new party and was elected. Since then the party has been in power, save during the two terms of Cleveland, and it has practically been in power for a year or more of his expiring term. It has long since outlived its usefulness, but is held together by greed and by the corruption of voters with money fired off to millions, trusts and other combines, which thrive by its protection.

GETTING ON THE RIGHT TRACK.

The Louisville Post, which has done so much bolting of Democratic tickets in the last two years that a great many Democrats in the State have about concluded that it has little Democracy left in it, came out in its issue last Saturday in a strong appeal for Democratic harmony, in the coming county and city contests that the State may be saved. The Post draws the following striking but true picture of the disaster that has followed so quickly the advent of Republican rule in Kentucky:

"The experiment of selecting a Republican Governor has been tried, and with disastrous results. The whole tone of the public service has been distinctly lowered. Never has there been such a greed for office; never has as many significantly untrained men been persistent in their demands for public position.

"As an executive officer Governor Bradley has been a distinct failure. When he has decided on the right thing he has adopted the wrong method. He has had the woods full of enemies to punish, and the highway full of friends to reward. Friendship has counted for more than efficiency, and the result is a demoralized public service.

"Our finances are in a discreditable condition. Our schools are disorganized. Our people are deeply satisfied."

"The Evening Post pleads for harmony on State affairs, not that we may save the party, but that we may save the State. Let us compromise our grievances and subordinate our differences, and let together on State and local issues, leaving time to determine the future course of both parties on the silver question."

We are pleased to note this change of heart in the Post and can only hope that the Democrats who followed The Post's lead out of the party will be as prompt to follow its lead back to the Democratic ranks. The strange thing about this whole matter is, why The Post was not able to foresee the evil results that would be the necessary concomitants of Republican rule, and for that reason endeavor to avoid rather than to secure Republican domination in the State. Just such motives are now prompting The Post to plead for a united Democracy, prompted The Democrat to advocate the election of Hamilton for Governor and Bryan for President when it could not and did not approve their views on all questions. The Democrat knew that there was no wider difference between Cleveland and Bryan on the currency question, than there was between Cleveland and Randall on the tariff question only a few years ago, and that they would be able to forego the former differences as it had the latter, and we knew then what The Post has learned now that "there are State and local questions pressing for consideration on all men who love Kentucky," and "that the cause of good government calls for the union of Democrats in the State and local campaigns."

The Democratic Committee of this county, prompted by a liberal spirit in its call for a primary, adopted a rule which will allow all Democrats to participate in the selection of the party nominees and it is to be hoped that they will select those who will serve the county most efficiently, and that when they are selected a united Democracy will guarantee their election. The majority of the candidates who, in this county, are asking nominations at the hands of Democrats, were candidates for the places they seek, before William J. Bryan was mentioned as a Presidential possibility, and before the county conventions were held to send delegates to Chicago. Before the Chicago convention no man ever questioned the Democracy of a single member of these candidates, and they are just the same kind of Democrats now that they were then. If their Democracy was pure then it is pure now, and if they were worthy of the support of all Democrats then they deserve it now, and we respectfully commend the to the prayerful consideration of such of our fellow citizens as are disposed to believe that the people of the Democracy of those who seek to be our nominees the article in The Post above referred to, and earnestly ask them to accept the sound advice therein given.—Winchester Democrat.

TOBACCO SOLD.

The Bourbon News: "A certain Bourbon county farmer netted but $17 on a fourteen acre tobacco crop which he sold last week in Louisville. Another Bourbon farmer netted only $11 on a fourteen acre crop sold in Cincinnati."

J. T. Palmer, of Richmond, formerly of this county, was here Monday. As solicitor for tobacco warehouse in Louisville he has shipped about 700 hogsheads from Garrard and Madison counties. He is a good worker and always keeps up his end of the rope.—Lancaster Kent.

Woodford county tobacco sold in Louisville the past week as follows: New leaf at $12.75, $10.50, $9.90, $7.80 to $7; new leaf, $6.00 to $4; new trash, $3.85 to 1.20.

There is another movement on foot to reduce the acreage of tobacco in Woodford county this year, says the Sun. Squire S. H. Shouse said Saturday that the leaf and set only half as much as last year and there have been the same resolution. If this movement could be made general and every body would stick to the contract it would undoubtedly result in a better quality of tobacco and better prices but heretofore an announcement of a reduced acreage has resulted in a largely increased acreage.

John Lawrence Sullivan, the world's greatest slinger, has taken the poor devil's oath. During his time he has earned over $400,000, but is now dollars less.

Bishop Hibler bought 24 sheep at Mrs. J. Monroe Lee's sale, Thursday, at $4 to $3 cents. McIntyre & McClintock bought three jacks at $40 and $50. The 700 acres of land were not sold, there being no bidders.—Paris Reporter.

For almost twelve months parties have been endeavoring to secure Sam P. Jones to deliver a humorous lecture in Richmond, but he has been booked ahead and not a date could be secured. At last, however, he has an open date, Monday, February 15th, when he will lecture in this city at the Court House and everybody in the county should hear him as it may be the last opportunity.

Rev. Sam Jones is one of the most remarkable men this century has produced. He is unique, he stands alone as one of a class, he occupies a sphere not occupied by any other; he has thousands of imitators but none approach the original. For fourteen years he has interested the American people and had power over them which no ordinary man possesses. No evangelist has enjoyed greater sway over the people and thousands date the hour of their conversion from "Sam Jones' Meeting." He has enemies, to be sure; they curse him, then go and hear him speak, and laugh with his friends.

As a platform speaker he ranks among the best in the Southern Locomotive Bureau, of Louisville, which manages his lecture business, always has on hands from 50 to 100 applications for dates which they cannot fill because he is "booked up," no dates open.

The people of Richmond have a treat in store on Monday, February 15th, when he will lecture here.

SAM JONES' WITTY SAYINGS.

"I pity a married man who has not the father of a family."

"I was born a Democrat, raised a Democrat and remained a Democrat as long as I thought that a Christian gentleman could stay in the party. You Republicans needn't giggle; thank God, I never did belong to your gang."

"The Populists are good people. They may go to heaven some day, but they'll never go to Washington."

"I believe a woman has a right to be everything she wants to be, except the father of a family."

WHAT IS A DEMOCRAT.

The Richmond State, soon after the election, sent letters to a number of prominent Democrats asking them why they were Democrats. Among the answers is one from W. J. Bryan, who says: "A broad sense of Democracy is a government which the people rule and a Democrat is one who believes in such a government. In a party sense, Democracy is defined by the Chicago platform, and the person who supports the party and its platform can call himself a Democrat. The platform was entirely satisfactory to me. In my judgment it applied Democratic principles to present conditions. If a minority had a right to give a party definition of Democracy, then there may be as many definitions of Democracy as there are persons who desire to wear the name."

Richard P. Bland, of Missouri, says: "A Democrat is one who supports the platform and votes for the nominees of the Democratic party. I am a Democrat because that party in its platform of principles as announced from time to time, and especially at the last national convention at Chicago, came nearer my idea of a Government of the people, by the people and for the people, than any other political organization now existing."

Gov. Stone, of Missouri, says he believes in the teachings of Washington and Jefferson and their great associates and is therefore, a Democrat. Democracy, he affirms, is an adherence to the Constitution.

George Fred Williams, of Boston, says the policy laid down at Chicago constitutes Democracy.

Senator Morgan, of Alabama, says he believes in the teachings of Washington and Jefferson and their great associates and is therefore, a Democrat. Democracy, he affirms, is an adherence to the Constitution.

FUNNY BITS.

Curiously worded advertisements, which are occasionally found, are very common. Here are a few samples:

"A lady wants to sell her piano, as she is going abroad in a strong iron frame."

"Wanted, experienced nurse for bottled baby."

"Furnished apartments suitable for gentlemen with folding doors."

"Lost a collie dog by a man on Saturday answering to Jim with a brass collar round his neck and a muzzel."

"Respectable widow wants washing for Tuesday."

"Mr. Brown, a carrier, begs to announce that he will make up gowns, capes, etc., for ladies out of their own skin."

"Build dog for sale; will eat anything; very fond of children."

"Wanted, a boy to be partly outside and partly inside the counter."

"Widow in comfortable circumstances wishes to marry two sons."

To be disposed of, a mail phaeton, the property of a gentleman with a movable head piece as good as new."

The London "Public Opinion" gives a brief and incomplete notice of a few of the men in public life and service whom Queen Victoria has outlived. These are: 1. All members of the privy council who were alive in 1837.

2. All the peers who held their titles in 1837, except the Earl of Darley, who was ten, and Earl Nelson, who was fourteen years old at that time.

3. All the members who sat in the House of Commons on her accession to the throne, except Mr. G. C. Darnley, the present Duke of Northumberland, the Earl of Mexborough, the Earl of Mansfield and John Temple-Lander.

4. Her Majesty has seen eleven lord chancellors, ten prime ministers, six speakers of the House of Commons, a least three bishops of every see and five or six of many sees, five archbishops of York and five commanders in chief.

5. She has seen five Dukes of Northumberland each other as earls, marshals, and has outlived every duke and duchess and every marquess and marchioness who bore that rank in 1837.

6. She has outlived every member of the Jockey Club and every master of foxhounds that flourished in 1837.

7. She has seen sixteen Presidents of the United States, ten viceroys of France, fifteen viceroys of India, and Canada, successively ruled by one king one emperor and six presidents of a republic.

There are more than 11,000 negro voters in Louisville and probably not more than 5,000 straight Republicans, but while the Republicans have had the principal offices in Louisville for the last year, not a single negro has received an appointment. This has aroused the indignation of the negroes and they have held a mass meeting and nominated one of their own race for all the offices in the next year. They intend to demand at least a division of the official pie.—Owensboro News.

Former State Auditor Norman and former Auditor's Agent Barker won the case against them at Frankfort on peremptory instructions.—Louisville Times.

This suit grew out of ex-Governor Brown's hatred for Auditor Norman, and Governor Bradley's desire to show up Democratic misdeeds. Up to the present time, although the Republicans have "seen the books," not a dollar has been stolen since Dick Tate looted the Treasury.—Carlsruhe Mercury.

THE CLIMAX.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 3, 1897.

The merchant who fails to advertise in the CLIMAX stands as much show of success as a June-Bug in a furnace with a paper shirt on.

—Three fine farms for sale by Geo. D. White. See ad.

—Mr. Ward Stevenson is very low with pneumonia at Ford.

—Yesterday was ground hog day. Six weeks more winter anyhow.

—J. T. Dykes has opened a nice grocery at the R. N. L. & B. depot.

—The farmers say that the present cold spell will finish up the wheat crop.

—Sheriff J. P. Simmons is out after several days confinement to his room with laryngitis.

—My residence and 4-acres of land for rent. West Main street, Richmond. C. H. PIGG.

—Sam Jones will certainly be in Richmond on Monday night, February 15th, at Court House.

—A nice new line of ladies' muslin and cambric underwear for sale at Miss Temple Oldham's.

—According to the Standard News, there are 1,500 negro population, exceeding that of the whites.

—Tickets for Sam Jones' lecture on sale at Middleton's drug store, Wednesday, February 10th.

—Elder J. G. Parson, of Red Lick, Estlin county, has been called to preach at the Panola Baptist church.

—Mr. Lyman Parrish, who has been confined to his bed for the past two weeks with stomach trouble, is convalescing.

—As three precincts cast over 300 votes the county will be redistributed. A new magistracy may be added in consequence.

—Miss Temple Oldham has for sale a nice new line of ladies' muslin and cambric underwear. Millinery in season.

—The Boonesboro Chapter of the D. A. R. will meet with Mrs. Alice Tribble, on Main street, Thursday afternoon, February 4th, at 3 o'clock.

—John Schen, a student last year at C. U., died of pneumonia last night at Huntington, W. Va. He was a member of S. A. E., and very handsome.

—W. S. Adams, with a horse and slide, hauled wood for 300 yards on the 6-inch ice on Kentucky river last week, at the mouth of Downing Creek.

—William Embury was given judgment in the Circuit Court, Thursday, for $50 against the L. & N. railroad for the killing of the former's horse near Red House.

—Mr. W. C. Fitzpatrick, formerly of this county, but for the past three years a resident of Shelby county, has removed with his family to his old home near here.

—The Courier-Journal made a mistake in its issue of January 18th regarding Sam Jones' lecture tour in Kentucky. He will fill all his dates. He will be in Richmond, Monday night, February 15th.

—For six days, ending Saturday last, the thermometer registered zero or thereabouts. Good ice in abundance was harvested and the frozen luxury will be plentiful next summer.

—There are many gentlemen who prefer their shirts made to order. These should call on Frank Goffin, the famous shirt manufacturer, who will be at White & Gibson's on Feb. 15 and 16.

—P. H. Idol, known here, now a prominent piano and machine agent at Lexington, fell on an icy pavement at Corbin and accidentally shot himself in the arm necessitating his amputation.

—Dr. C. E. Todd, of Tennessee, will preach in Second Presbyterian church on the first and second Sabbaths of February, observing the communion on the second Sabbath, February 14.

—The revival at the Christian church continues and Elder Lloyd, of Nashville, is preaching fine sermons. About fourteen addresses so far, and large audiences greet him at every meeting.

—Owing to the rain and sleet of Monday it was a poorly attended court-day. Few people in town. About 800 cattle on the market, and brought $1 to 4 cents; mules $35 to $80; few horses sold.

—We have some special bargains in storm overcoats; they are going right along. Come and get one if you need them. A little money goes farther than ever you saw before. Covington & Mitchell.

—Mr. W. H. Bates has an ear of corn with a complete, perfect shuck on every grain. The cob is only a half inch in diameter, the grains are the usual size, but with the shuck each grain measures one inch long.

—Harry S. Morgan, of the White's Station neighborhood, shipped his crop of tobacco, consisting of about 10,000 pounds, to Louisville and sold five bushels of the best last week for 5c. per pound. Considered a low price.

—Both of us will profit by your trading here. Our interests are mutual. You save money by buying your clothing from us, because we give better values for less money than others, while your added patronage swells our business, and both of us profit together. Covington & Mitchell.

—Judge G. W. Gourley, of Beattyville, is spoken of as a Republican candidate for Circuit Judge in the Twenty-third Judicial district, with Judge W. H. Lilly, of Irvine, as Commonwealth's Attorney.

—Man who ought to wear honest clothing—that's everybody; man who wants the same clothing year after year—that's most everybody; man who wants the prevailing style—that's everybody else. We want to clothe you in the coming season and will save you money and you can count on what we say, and bear this in mind when you want clothing. We are ready for you now. Covington & Mitchell.

Bondholders of the R. N. L. & B. will probably lose their entire holdings by the reorganization of the Monon, which is ordered to be sold.

The C. F. Moberley yard last Thursday night was most beautifully decorated with scores of lanterns, which from the city below appeared like a cluster of stars.

The R. N. L. & B. coaches are being nicely painted. Capt. Pates and his crew are a gentlemanly set and contribute to the comfort of all passengers.

Bob Gillen caught three catamounts at Slate Lick on Saturday. They are supposed to be the same house cats which Jim Crutcher took up there last summer.

Sam Jones says he likes to speak in a college town; there are so few politicians in such a town. Speaking of politicians, he says that they ought to be easily saved, for the devil don't want them.

By all means read "Walton's Wonderful Wise Words" on our first page. They are gems garnered for the genuine good of all who appreciate pithy paragraphs penned by a patriot.

Medical examiners of pensioners have been placed under the Civil Service, writes Congressman McCreary to Dr. L. J. Frazee, but adds, that the present Richmond board is a good prospect to remain in office as long as they like. The board is now composed of Dr. L. J. Frazee, President, Dr. C. H. Vaughn, Secretary, and Dr. C. J. Bales, Treasurer. All Democrats.

K. of P. at Lexington.

Low round trip rates to Lexington and return will be in effect via Q. & C. Route from all points between Eranger and Pine Knot, Ky., account K. of P. meeting February 19th and 20th. Ask agents for particulars.

A New Mexico Lady Orders the Climax.

SANTA FE, N. M., Jan. 29, 1897.

DEAR SIR:—Enclosed find $1.50 for the CLIMAX for one year.

Respectfully,
MRS. W. H. WOOTEN.

Represented Here.

The Covenant Building and Loan Association of Knoxville, Tennessee, that assigned last week was reported at this place. We regret that some of our citizens will lose by the failure.

Cooney is a Hustler.

From the Harrodsburg Democrat we learn that Messrs. Neff & Todd, enterprising gentlemen from Richmond, have opened a produce store in the Dedman building. They will pay the highest cash prices for everything in their line.

Cooney Neff is, indeed, a hustler and our neighbors can depend upon him to market all the fowls and hen fruit for miles around.

Cuba Will Be Recognized.

Although Messrs. Norman and Little were declared winners of the debate last Friday night at the University, Abbott of the negative got the prize for the best speech. The Cuban question was up and it was settled, too, that Uncle Sam ought to recognize the independence of Cuba. Messrs. Wiggins and Bennett declaimed splendidly. Mr. Kennedy made a creditable speech, and Tom Pickles ranked high as a presiding officer.

Split His Skull.

A horrible accident befell Daniel Garhart while chopping wood at Jack's near the Pond church on Saturday last. He was driving a wedge into a tough log and in making a stroke caught the ax on a wire clothes line over head which caused the ax to rebound with great force, the blade penetrating the forehead and cutting a gash three inches long and almost to the brain. Dr. Frazee stitched up the wound, removing fragments of the bone chipped by the ax, and hopes his patient will escape further trouble from his unusual and terrible mishap.

County Court.

N. C. Thomson granted merchant's license at mouth of Muddy Creek.

J. K. Henry granted distiller's license near Kirsfield.

James A. Ballard's will probated. Willed his property to his wife; his wife appointed executrix, but did not qualify.

Benjamin Cousin's will probated. Willed his property to Rice, Benjamin, and Campbell, cousins. Dr. J. M. Middleton and Fry appointed and qualified as executors.

Wm. Turpin appointed administrator Solomon Turpin.

R. B. Million appointed administrator Jesse Newby and qualified with C. D. Chennault, J. S. Collins, W. L. Crutcher, T. E. Newby and Joe Heathman as sureties.

Fine Finished Work.

A departure in the monumental business here, was inaugurated by Mr. A. D. Flora, who has opened a warehouse on Main below First where he will display a large line of finished monuments ready for sale. They will be on exhibition this week or next. Mr. Flora is an expert engraver and practical workman, and will be glad to have orders for monuments of all kinds.

Madison County Suffragists.

Mrs. James Bennett, of this city, and her sister, Miss Laura, who is President of the Kentucky Equal Rights Association, were very prominent in the proceeding of the National Woman's Suffrage Convention, in session at Des Moines, Iowa, last week. On Thursday Mrs. Bennett presented the report of the committee on federal suffrage. Susan B. Anthony has been re-elected President.

Irvine.

Mr. Virgil P. Smith, a prominent lawyer of Irvine, Estlin county, arrived here last week, with his family, and they now occupy the late residence of Dr. Colyer. Capt. Will C. Curd and Mr. Smith have formed a partnership for the practice of law. Mr. Smith is spoken of in the highest terms as a general gentleman and a good lawyer, and he has the "hook" of a wide-awake up-with-the-times lawyer, and considering these facts in connection with what we know of Capt. Curd we venture to prophesy it to be a new and prosperous law firm in Somerset.—Somerset Paragon.

Solomon Smith } Married February 15, 1831.
Maria Brown }
Curtis P. Moberley } Married October 10, 1867.
Bettie Smith }
George Corneilus }
Georgia Moberley } Married January 23, 1897.

Two-thirds of a century ago Solomon Smith and Maria Brown stood side by side in the rear parlor of the home that overlooked Richmond from its commanding elevation, and took the vows which made them man and wife.

In that same room and on that same spot, thirty-six years afterwards, their daughter, Bettie, then a beautiful girl of eighteen years, gave her heart and life into the keeping of Curtis Field Moberley.

Thirty years later, sixty-six years after the first vows were spoken, on Thursday last another fair member of the old home stood on the identical spot made sacred by the two previous marital events, and gave her future happiness into the keeping of George Corneilus.

The above is, in brief, the story of a remarkable train of events, which has few if any counterparts in the history of the county or the State. But it is not sufficient to discuss the subject without somewhat elaborating the account of last Thursday's brilliant nuptials.

Like that which occurred in the same place thirty years ago this was a tableau wedding, and it was as beautiful as it is rare. Behind closed doors the wedding present formed—Miss Helen Bennett and Mr. T. J. Smith, Jr.; Miss Annie Bennett and Mr. C. W. Todd, and Miss Margaret Parrish and Mr. Tom Moberley; Mr. Green Clay being the usher, being attired in full dress in the keeping with the gentlemen of the party. These were followed by the handsome and stately maid-of-honor, Miss Matilda Tribble, with Mr. John B. Chennault, best man. Finally came the bride lightly leaning upon the groom's arm. While the tableau was forming in the order above described the sweet tones of Miss Pattie's voice filled the apartments with Schubert's matchless Serenade, with piano and violin accompaniment by Mrs. W. G. White and Mr. W. B. Bright. Concluding, Mrs. White invoked the aid of the organ, from which Lohegren's grand wedding march pealed out, with accompanying music by Messrs. W. B. Bright and Will Park. As the last notes trembled into silence the portals were swung wide open by the pretty flower girls, Misses Rosa May Moberley and Sarah Burnam, who hitherto had stood, like little sentinels at Ellen's gates, in snowy white with baskets of pink carnations. The wedding scene which burst upon their view will never fade from the minds of those who beheld it. Let us contemplate for a moment the unusual spectacle before the solemn words are said and the tableau melts away into the mists of memory.

The semi-circle of beautiful women and handsome men, arrayed for the bridal, stood motionless, as though held rigid by the huge wreath of palms and banks of roses and noxias in the background. Over all innumerable candles shed their mellow light, reviving traditions, perchance, of that first marriage on the same spot when modern artificial lights were unknown. The scene was strikingly effective and stamps the tableau with the name of beauty in home ceremony. But the end must come—ah, the beginning, if you will, for the Rev. Bishop Burton, of this Episcopal Diocese, stepped forward and cemented the two young hearts in the holy bonds of wedlock. The ceremony, which was as beautiful and impressive as imaginable, was augmented by the use of the golden circle, and as the groom repeated the magic words, "with this ring I do thee wed," the prayers of the well-wishing friends went up to Heaven for a life of unpeppable happiness for the beautiful bride and her handsome husband.

The ceremony over, Mrs. White played Mendelssohn's march as the bride and groom filed into the dining room, where a round table, elegantly decorated in green and white, overspread by a canopy of satin, white satin ribbons and roses depending from the ceiling. The bride's cake, heart-shaped and a mammoth triumph of the pastry art, graced the center of the table, surmounted by a bell which was ever and anon rung by a tiny cupid. The supper was superb.

The costumes were very beautiful, the bride being attired in a pure white satin evening dress en train, with a bertha of real lace. Her veil was caught over her forehead by a large spray of diamonds, the gift of the groom, and she carried lilies of the valley and a gorgeous bouquet of white roses.

Miss Tribble, carrying white carnations, wore a white Paris muslin decollete, trimmed with broad white satin. At the throat and hem were ruffles of muslin, lending a fleecy effect. All the other gowns were the same.

In view of a recent bereavement in the family only near relatives were invited, which was a case of deep regret, especially to the bride whose popularity would otherwise have warranted what she always desired, a large wedding. Nevertheless the gifts were numerous and easily and attested the high esteem in which the couple are held. The bride has always been a favorite in society, her beauty, her sincerity, her intellect, and her ready disposition at reaching friends to her with ease everywhere she went. Mr. Corneilus is one of the proprietors of the Hotel Glyndon, one of the best conducted and most popular hostels in the State. He is a son of F. Corneilus and a nephew of Miss Mary Matthews, a lady whose life has been one of devotion to good works, and much of the high moral tone of her nephew is due to her motherly training. Mr. Corneilus has traveled extensively and is known all over the Union and is well liked by all. He comes of excellent ancestry, his forefathers having fought in the French Revolution, whilst his mother was the belle of Georgia and her father twice Governor.

Mr. and Mrs. Corneilus are spending their honeymoon in the South where they will visit many places and be absent several weeks. Returning they will reside in the handsomest department in the Glyndon, fitted out for their use by the indulgent aunt of the groom. It is needless to say that a thousand welcomes await them, and the fine blessings of all their friends attend them.

Bought Her Own Shroud.

Edith Gentry, colored, died on Sunday, at "Kansas" Joe Gentry's and was buried in the Richmond cemetery on Sunday in a black silk dress which she bought and paid for herself, at a cost of $3 per yard, and laid it away to be buried in.

Deceased was 82 years of age and had seen six generations of the Gentry family in one house. She originally belonged to Martin Gentry, then to Josiah Gentry, afterwards to Martin, then to Josiah, and then to "Kansas" Gentry.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the transient nature of the many physical ills, which vanish before proper efforts—gentle efforts—pleasant efforts—rightly directed—there is comfort in the knowledge, that so many forms of disease are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constituted condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. That is why it is the only remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the one remedy which promotes internal cleanliness without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get its beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co., only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is regular, laxatives or other remedies are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed, every one knows that Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most general satisfaction.

Strange Coincidences.

The annual eclipse of the sun and the 80th birthday of Mr. James H. Spilman, of Lowell, Garrard county, occurred on Monday—the worst day we have had in six months. Old Sol was indeed in eclipse for as the sun was hidden the liveliest day whilst rain and sleet covered the face of the earth. On July 29th Mrs. Spilman will be 79, when the sun will again be in eclipse, according to the meteorologists and Hostetter's almanac.

Thirty-one Acres Short.

The 200-acre Jessamine farm bought from M. H. Neave by Mr. Jas. Howard Boggs, of this county, last month, turns out to contain only 169 acres. Two surveys were called in and they certify to the above figure. Mr. Boggs is a shrewder than previous purchasers and is consequently better off thereby. Mr. Neave bought of Mrs. Monroe Brown, now Mrs. Katie Price, of Lexington, in 1882, 150 acres, and it is this tract that has fallen short 31 acres in the survey. When Mr. Neave purchased the land from Mrs. Price the survey was made by the late Oliver Huggins, as the title of limitation has run out it is very likely Mr. Neave will not get a cent, which will make him lose, counting the amount paid for the land, interest and taxes, about $3,600.

LATER.—The CLIMAX interviewed Mr. Boggs yesterday and he says: "It is a mistake about my plot falling short 31 acres. Mr. Neave is the owner of the 31 acres, on the Mrs. Brown survey, purchased 17 years ago upon an old survey. I got my 200 acres, but Mr. Neave loses his 31."

The bad gas on the streets is said to be due to a condensation at the burner; this afterwards freezes and stops the flow of gas. While taking this recess the company should arrange to clean the glass in these lamps which are very dirty.

Hood's Pills

Should be in every family medicine chest and every traveler's grip. They are "travelers" which the stomach is out of order, cure biliousness, flatulency, and all liver troubles. Mild and efficient. 25 cents.

Unlike most proprietary medicines, the formulae of Dr. J. C. Ayer's Sarsaparilla and other preparations are cheerfully given to any physician who applies for them. Hence the special favor accorded these well-known standard remedies by the World's Fair commissioners. 11

Tetter, Salt-Rheum and Eczema.

The intense itching and smarting incident to these diseases is instantly allayed by applying Chamberlain's Eye and Skin Ointment. Many very bad cases have been permanently cured by it. It is equally efficient for itching piles and a favorite remedy for sore nipples; chapped hands, chilblains, frost bites and chronic sore eyes. 25c. per box.

Dr. Cady's Condition Powders, are just what a horse needs when in bad condition. Tonic, blood purifier and medicine. They are not food but medicine and the best in use to put a horse in prime condition. Price 25 cents per package.

"James Howard Boggs' views on finance are: any man who justly owes a dollar and will not pay it, has stolen a dollar, and is liable to steal another if given an opportunity. Over 200 owe me and their names will be made public in the near future if they don't come to time."

Fifty-three people were overcome by the cold at Chicago and one person was frozen to death.

The Most Fatal Disease.

It is generally known that more adults die of kidney trouble than of any other disease. When the first symptoms of this disease appear no time should be lost in taking Foley's Kidney Cure, which is guaranteed or money refunded.

A note has been received at Owensboro telling of the alleged suicide of Willie Sittes in Missouri.

Incipient consumption is cured with Dr. Bell's Pine Tar Honey. Inflammation is allayed and the clogging of the lungs is stopped. When this is accomplished the road to health is a straight one. Get a bottle to-day.

Poisons engendered by food fermenting in a dyspeptic stomach are the direct cause of rheumatism, gout, bronchitis, liver and kidney complaints, asthma, pneumonia and many nervous ailments. These results prevented by the use of the Shaker Digestive Cordial, a remedy discovered and prepared by the Shakers of Mount Lebanon, N. Y. It is in itself a food and has power to digest other food taken with it. Thus it rests the diseased stomach and finally masters the worst causes of dyspepsia. It acts promptly and fresh strength and increase of weight soon follows. The first dose, taken immediately after eating, abates the pain and distress engendered by dyspepsia. Trial bottle—sent free to prove its merit—10c.

Laxol is the best medicine for children. Doctors recommended it in place of Castor Oil.

The difference between Pills and Simmons Liver Regulator, is just this: Pills don't do more harm than good with most people, and you feel them afterwards. While Simmons Liver Regulator in liquid or powder is very pleasant to take, and the only feeling that you have afterward is the great relief that it gives from Constipation, Biliousness, Sick Headache and Dyspepsia. It is a mild laxative and a tonic.

Prevent sickness and save doctor's bills at this season by keeping your blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

A coal man killed Mrs. Benning in Chicago 11 day morning and shot himself fatally.

Catarh in the Head

Is a dangerous disease. It may lead directly to consumption. Catarh is caused by impure blood, and the true way to cure it is by purifying the blood. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures catarh because it removes the cause of it by purifying the blood. Testimonials testify that they have been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Hood's Pills are purely vegetable and do not purge pain or gripe. 25c. All druggists.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is known by its works. The experience of half a century proves that no other preparation of the kind stops coughing and alleviates irritation of the throat and bronchial tubes so promptly and effectually as this.

The Modern Way

Commends itself to the well-informed, to do pleasantly and effectually what was formerly done in the crudest manner and disagreeable as well. To cleanse the system and break up colds, headaches, and every without unpleasant after effects, use the delightful liquid laxative remedy, Syrup of Figs. Manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Company. feb3-1m

W. M. Kirby ex-sheriff of Garrard died Wednesday of heart disease.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is cured by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Sent free circulars free.

Your Present Need

Is pure, rich blood, and a strong and healthy body, because with the approach of spring and the beginning of warmer weather your physical system will undergo radical changes. All the impurities which have accumulated during colder weather must now be expelled or serious consequences will result. The one true blood purifier prominently in the public eye today is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Its record of cures is unequalled. Its sales are the largest in the world. A few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla will prepare you for spring by purifying and enriching your blood and toning and invigorating your whole system. feb3-1m

I have given Chamberlain's Cough Remedy a fair test and consider it one of the very best remedies for croup that I have ever found. One dose has always been sufficient, although I use it freely. Any cold or croupy child, or even a very badly affected adult, can be cured by it. I can conscientiously recommend it for croup and colds in children.—Geo. E. Wolff, Clerk of the Circuit Court, Formandina, Fla. Sold by W. G. White, Richmond, Ky. feb3-1m Princeton, Ky., had a $35,000 fire Friday morning.

Mr. Ward L. Smith, of Fredericksburg, Mo., was troubled with chronic diarrhoea for over thirty years. He had become fully satisfied that it was only a question of a short time until he would have to give it up. He had been treated by some of the best physicians in Europe and America but got no permanent relief. One day he picked up a newspaper and chanced to read an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. He got a bottle of it, the first dose helped him and his continued use cured him. For sale by W. G. KENTUCKY SENATORSHIP.

Gov. Bradley Likely to Settle It By Appointing His Brother-in-Law.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 1.—The prospects are that the senatorial contest in the Blue Grass state is to be settled by Gov. Bradley appointing Maj. Andrew T. Wood, of Mt. Sterling, to be senator and take chances on the senate giving him a seat.

Gov. Bradley and Maj. Wood have long been friends, and it was the governor's influence more than any other individual's which helped to nominate the major for governor. The major Wood's friends are urging him for the position of United States interior revenue commissioner, and promise strong backing for him if he is sent to accept. He is a leading man of the state, and is well known throughout Blue Grassland.

Kentucky Institutions May Be United.
FRANKFORT, Ky., Feb. 1.—One thing to be argued on the extra legislative session will be a bill creating a state commission to have complete and sole control of the penitentiaries, asylums and other institutions of the state. It is probable that the democratic members of the assembly will be inclined to refuse to release the republican officials of a part of their responsibilities in the middle of their terms of office.

A Fatal Fight.

NINE MEN

Believed to Have Been Lost When the Franklin No. 8 Sank in Green River.

HENDERSON, Ky., Jan. 28.—A telephone message received here Wednesday night announced that late Wednesday afternoon the Green river packet Franklin No. 8, while taking a barge to Green River, was struck by ice and sunk. The accident is said to have taken place near Howell, and four of the 15 men aboard are said to have jumped on the barge, which was cut away and floated down. One was the Franklin's commander, Capt. Server. The other three men are presumed to have been lost.

HENDERSON was directed to be on the lookout for the barge, but up to midnight no sign of it had been seen. The river is running very heavy with ice and the night is fearfully cold, so that there is little hope that any of the men will be rescued. It is thought that if they are held out in the river as now seems certain they are.

The barge was seen at Howell, it is stated, but too late to be of any help. Scores of men are carrying torches along the river bank, and every effort will be made to locate the barge.

Bradley whipped out a big knife and stabbed Wingo to the heart, killing him almost instantly. He escaped with a large posse, and his friends are searching for him, and say they will hang him when caught.

Walling Making Ornaments.
COVINGTON, Ky., Jan. 29.—Alonso Walling has become a maker of ornaments. He got some silk and beads from some friends, and Thursday he began to shape them into "what-nots," to be hung on chandeliers. He presented the first one to Mrs. Weighman, wife of the jailer. Jackson became interested in Walling's work, and soon was helping in the work. It is suspected that Walling wants to sell the articles.

Covington Dry Goods House Falls.
COVINGTON, Ky., Jan. 29.—At 12:30 p. m. Thursday Joseph C. Grote, doing business as Grote Brothers, at 40 and 52½ Main street, Covington, Ky., was ordered to be sold for the benefit of its bondholders. The Richmond, Nicholasville & Irvine road was bonded for $1,000,000, and the bonds were insured by the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. No interest has been paid since 1891 and there is no provision for the payment of the bonds in the order given in Indianapolis for the sale of the bonds for $1,000,000. Half a million of the bonds are held in Louisville.

Ladies Who Suffer

From any complaint peculiar to their sex—such as Profuse, Painful, Suppressed or Irregular Menstruation, are soon restored to health by Bradfield's Female Regulator.

It is a combination of remedial agents which have been used with the greatest success for more than 25 years, and known to act specifically with and on the organs of Menstruation, and recommended for such complaints only, it never fails to give relief and restore the health of the suffering woman. It should be taken by the girl just budding into womanhood, and by the woman who is suffering from Menstruation, Suppressed, Irregular or Painful, or all delicate women should use it, as its tonic properties have a wonderful influence in toning up and strengthening the system by driving through the proper channels all impurities.

"A daughter of one of my customers missed menstruation from exposure and cold, and on arriving at puberty her health was completely wrecked, until she was twenty-four years of age, when she was cured by the use of a bottle of Bradfield's Female Regulator, completely restoring her health as a result."

A nervous mother who is determined to protect a son from a mob.

BOWLING GREEN, Ky., Jan. 26.—There was excitement here all day Monday when a mob of about 100 men gathered at a mob would attack the Warren county jail some time before Tuesday morning and lynch a Negro man named Charles Taylor.

The young man named Taylor was placed under a strong guard, and so thoroughly alarmed did the officials become by the gathering of the mob, among some of the prisoners, with instructions to assist in the defense of the jail should the mob break down the strong outer doors and get into the corridors.

The prisoners armed are, of course, more trustworthy ones. The officials were not at all alarmed by the gathering, but were not disgraced by a lynching, preferring even that the prisoners should kill some of the mob.

Headholders May Lose Their Holdings.
LOUISVILLE, Ky., Jan. 26.—The bondholders of the Richmond, Nicholasville & Irvine railroad will probably lose their entire holdings by the reorganization of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. The bonds were issued for $1,000,000, and the bonds were insured by the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago. No interest has been paid since 1891 and there is no provision for the payment of the bonds in the order given in Indianapolis for the sale of the bonds for $1,000,000.
